

USC University of Southern California

McNair

Scholars Program

Office of the Provost | Undergraduate Programs

2013 Funding Opportunities

Academic Conference Awards

If you are accepted to present a poster or a talk at a conference, you are eligible for an award between between $200-$800 for related travel, supplies, or other expenses. Note, you must have been accepted AND be presenting at the conference to apply for this award.

Graduate School Preparation Supplemental Scholarships

These scholarships can be used to off-set the costs of Graduate School related expenses including application fees (where no waivers are available), sending GRE scores, postage, etc. (maximum award $250).

Award sizes for university-visit related expenses will depend on the proposal and budget.

Continuing Research Awards

This funding is available to students who are continuing to pursue their McNair projects or a new project.

These awards can be used for expenses related to the research process including: subject compensation, equipment and materials, mailing costs, travel, etc. Award sizes will depend on the proposal and budget.

GRE Awards

The program will reimburse any Scholar who takes the GRE half of the total cost of the test.*

*If you qualify as low-income student you can receive a waiver for the other half of the GRE cost by going to the Financial Aid Office and requesting a GRE voucher. You must do this BEFORE you register for the test so allow extra time when scheduling.

Check us out online:

<http://mcnair.usc.edu/>

Refer to our website <http://mcnair.usc.edu/> (inquire about services & register for a session). For additional questions contact mcnairsc@usc.edu, Dr. Richard Andalon, Associate Dean & Director, and Dr. Aaron Walker, Assistant Director & Program Specialist.